Tales from North Cornwall Book Festival

"Yesterday we were lucky to be chosen to go to the Book Festival at St Endellion. We had an epic time and attended 4 different workshops. We got 7 new books for the library, met the authors and they signed them for us! The workshops were about: story-telling of traditional Cornish tales (with Anna Chorlton & Sue Field), poetry writing (with Matt Windle) and writing our own stories (with Liz Kessler). We also met the incredible author and illustrator Martin Brown, whose work includes illustrating Horrible Histories!"

By Amber, Tallulah & Harry—Reading champions.

A big thank-you to Padstow Bookseller for funding the tickets to allow our pupils to attend the Bookworm Day.

Missing coat

Have you seen a lilac-coloured Joules coat, 6-year-old size? It was last seen in our Lost Property box but has been claimed in error. Please return to school if you find it—thank you.

Young Leaders' crisp packet recycling

Our Young Leaders have organized for the school to have a crisp packet recycling bin, in order to raise funds for the Fire Fighters Charity. Please donate your empty crisp packets from home via your children's class or bring to the bin in the entrance foyer. The packets will be taken to the Padstow Fire Brigade who will organise the recycling. We have chosen to support this charity as the Fire Brigade is a big part of our community and help us all.

Local events on Newsletter email

This week's emailed newsletter contains posters giving details of the following local events:

Nadelik Lowen on Saturday 30th November, including the switching-on of the Christmas lights at 6pm.

A show by the Padstow Kernow Players called 'Please don't feed the seagulls' on 21st & 22nd October at 7.30pm at The Little Theatre, Barry's Lane.
